

CHAPTER 3

ARABIC

Doctoral Theses

028. FIRIND FARIQ
Impact of Arabic on Hindustani Language in Modern India.
Supervisor : Prof. Mohammad Nauman Khan
Th 15216

Abstract

Shows that the impact of Arabic on the modern Indian languages like Hindustani along with the contribution of the Arabs and the Mughals to the Indian culture and civilization and vice-versa is not only enormous and all-pervading but can also not be separated from each other. Also studies the arguments and counter arguments of authors like Mr. Amrit Rai and Mr. Shams ur Rahman Faruqi about how Fort William College in British India promoted one language (Hindi) at the expense of the other (Urdu).

Contents

1. Introduction 2. Arabic as the medium used by the Arabs throughout the interaction of India... 3. Modern Arabic : Some structural features and allied details... 4. The Hindustani language in modern India : Past and present... 5. Popular terms of Arabic origin used in Hindustani (Urdu and Hindi) in modern India... 6. Conclusion and Bibliography.