

CHAPTER 17

FINANCIAL STUDIES

Doctoral Theses

093. HADDADI (Mohammad Hassan)
New Issue Market and Corporate Financing in India
Supervisors : Prof. Shirin Rathore and Dr. Sanjay Sehgal
Th 14212

Abstract

Traces the growth of new issues market on an overall bases, analyzes its industry wise and region wise growth, evaluates the objective (such as expansion, working capital and new project) of issues for raising funds. Determines the cost of raising new/further issues, to evaluate relationship between the size of the issues, type of issues (equity, preference and debenture), age of the company and cost of raising funds, ascertains if there are any industrial and regional patterns in the cost of raising funds, determines the pattern of underwriting of new/further issues, finds out the relationship between the size of the issues, type of issues (equity, preference and debenture), age of the company and underwriting, to ascertain the role played by different underwriting agencies in the industry wise and region wise underwriting of new issues market in India.

Contents

1. Introduction. 2. New Issues Market : Organization and Functions. 3. Review of Emperical Studies. 4. Role of New Issues in Corporate Financing. 5. Cost of Raising Capital. 6. Underwriting. 7. Summary and Conclusion. Bibliography.