Abstract In spite of the changing trends and styles in Persian writing on historiography in the first half of the 19th century AD we do find many works in Persian on regional histories. One of them was Awadh, history of Awadh has been analysed by many authors during 18th and 19th century. The Tarikh-e-Mohtashim written by Mohd Mohtashim Khan is one among the most relevant books of the period. The book not only describes the history of Nawabs of Awadh but also the socio political aspects of the era too.
