

CHAPTER 1

AFRICAN STUDIES

Doctoral Theses

001. JAGPAL SINGH
Role of United Nations in Conflict Management since 1975:
A Study of Angola.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
Th 15600

Abstract

Demonstrates five different ways of conflict management namely, conflict prevention, peace making, peacekeeping, peacebuilding and state building. By using functional rather than theoretical models, theory and practice are brought along the same plane. Observes that the major cause of conflict in Angola is political and the basic cause is economic. Secondly, the main conflicting conditions in Angola are ethnic and regional. Further found that tribal, political, social differences and lack of commitment of leaders of several political parties are the internal forces, which hindered conflict management process. As far as the external reason are concerned the neighbouring countries like Zaire, South Africa, Zambia etc. are responsible for not solving the conflicts in Angola. Instead of helping, these countries add fuel in the conflicting conditions in Angola.

Contents

1. Introduction. 2. Conflict management. 3. UN and conflict management. 4. Conflicting situation in Angola:An overview. 5. The UN and conflict management process in Angola. 6. The UN and its understanding with regional organisations for conflict management in Angola. 7. Conclusion. 8. Bibliography.

002. JHA (Sushant Kumar)
Democracy and Development in Zimbabwe Since Independence.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
Th 15599

Abstract

Attempts to understand the cause and constraints which may have shaped the nature of political economy of Zimbabwe. Describes all the major issues and policy choices of democracy and development in Zimbabwe. Explores the possible ways in which this nascent political economy could emerge as a 'democratic developmental state'.

Contents

1. Introduction. 2. Discourses on democracy and development. 3. Emergence of Zimbabwe as a sovereign nation-state. 4. Experiments for political democracy in Zimbabwe. 5. Political economy of development. 6. Dynamics of democracy and development in Zimbabwe. 7. Conclusion. 8. Bibliography.

003. SARIKA RANI
A Study of Political Implications of Structural Adjustment Programme in Ghana (1983-2002)
 Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
 Th 15598

Abstract

Critically analyzes the Structural Adjustment Programme (SAP) as a policy process especially in the context of Africa with special attention of Ghana, as thirty six sub-Saharan countries have been subjected to the SAP and among them Ghana has come up as a show-piece for IMF (International Monetary Fund) /WB (World Bank), which in their view has successfully implemented and benefitted out of the programme. Examines and analyses on the one hand implications of SAPs on socio-political condition of the Ghana and on the other hand the impact of adjustment programmes on the introduction of democratic political institutions.

Contents

1. Introduction. 2. Structural adjustment programme. 3. Ghana's political economy prior to structural adjustment programme. 4. The political economy of structural adjustment programme in Ghana. 5. The political implications of structural adjustment programme in Ghana. 6. The impact of structural adjustment programme in Ghana. 7. Conclusion. 8. Bibliography.

004. SINGH (Satya Prakash)
Democracy and Development : A Case Study of Zambia Since Independence.
 Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
 Th 15803

Abstract

Focuses on the study of Zambian democracy during its three republics. The first republic (1964-1973) with special reference to its socio-economic development. The second republic (1973-1991) with special reference to the one party dominance and its impact over democracy and development and the third republic which was born on November 1, 1991 as president Chiluba took office with a strong electoral mandate to restore both political rights and economic well being.

Contents

1. Democracy. 2. Development. 3. Democracy and development:A relationship. 4. Zambia:A case study (1964-2006). 5. Conclusion. 6. Bibliography.

005. TRIVEDI (Ashutosh)
Women Empowerment and Socio-Political Development in Ghana.
 Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
 Th 15785

Abstract

Discusses the conceptual aspect of women empowerment. Evaluates the socio-political and cultural conditions of women in Ghana. Examines the role of government and NGOs in women empowerment in Ghana. Also evaluates the improvement in women's conditions in Ghana. Also examine women empowerment and socio-political development in Ghana.

Contents

1. Women empowerment : A concept. 2. The women in Ghana. 3. Women empowerment in Ghana : Since independence. 4. Women empowerment : Change in the position of women. 5. Women empowerment and socio-political development in Ghana. 6. Conclusion. 7. Bibliography.

M.Phil Dissertations

006. ANJANI KUMAR
Energy as a Factor for Africa-China Relations : A Case Study of Sudan.
Supervisor : Dr. V. P. S. Malik
007. CHOUHAN (Hari Lal)
United Nations and Conflict Management in Africa : A Case Study of Ethiopia and Eritrea.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
008. DEEPAK PRASAD
Oil in Nigeria : A Case Study of Niger Delta.
Supervisor : Dr. A. S. Yaruvingam
009. DEORI (Surya Kumar)
Tourism Development and Environmental Conservation in Okavango Delta, Botswana.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
010. DURIA (Sankar Prasad)
South Africa-Russia Relations in the Post-Apartheid Period.
Supervisor : Dr. A. S. Yaruvingam
011. GURJAR (Hira Lal)
Sudan : Economic Impact of Structural Adjustment Programme.
Supervisor : Dr. Mahendra Pal
012. KANUNGO (Susant Kumar)
Role of the South Africa Human Rights Commission in the Post Apartheid Era.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
013. KIMBERLY MARY NORON HA
Refugees and Nationalism : A Case Study of Rwandan Returnees.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
014. KUNDAN KUMAR
Reconstructing the Early Historic Landscape of the Nile Valley Civilization in Egypt.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad

015. MITHILESH RANJAN
Integrated Watershed Management and Livelihood Security : A Study of Kafue Flat Region, Zambia.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
016. PANDEY (Umeshwar)
Darfur Crisis and the Role of International Organization.
Supervisor : Dr. A. S. Yaruingam
017. PARMAR (Shubhra)
Regional Economic Integration in Africa : A Case Study of Southern African Development Community (SADC).
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
018. RAJNI KUMARI
Regional Cooperation in Southern Africa and Role of South Africa.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
019. RAKESH KUMAR
Civil Society and Development : The Case of Botswana.
Supervisor : Dr. Tribhuwan Prasad
020. SARLA
Assessment of "Focus Africa" Programme 2002-2007 : As a Tool of Diplomatic & Commercial Interest of India : A Case Study of Ethiopia.
Supervisor : Dr. A. S. Yaruingam
021. SWAIN (Biswabasu)
Political Crisis and Constitutional Development in the Horn of Africa : A Case Study of Somalia (1991-2007).
Supervisor : Dr. A. S. Yaruingam
022. TRIPATHI (Tanvi)
Human Rights in Africa.
Supervisor : Dr. A. S. Yaruingam
023. VIKAS KUMAR
Comparative Investigation of Early Egyptian and Harappan Settlement Patterns.
Supervisor : Dr. Rajesh Kumar